SLEEPLESS SHUTTLE BUSES

Christopher Flach short films

6:00 p.m. – 7:00 a.m.

Shuttle passengers from Sleepless Night 2007 will be thrilled to learn that producer/director Christopher Flach will be back on the small screens with two hours of his wonderful new film work. Recently recognized by Oprah Winfrey for his iconic documentary on legendary interior designer Madeleine Castaing, Flach is also an accomplished landscape, interiors and portrait photographer. Chrisflach.com

“Nouveau Bourgeois Latin Immigrant that Learned Shopping and Has Good Taste”

6:00 p.m. – 7:00 a.m.

A video project by Elena Tejada-Herrera, a multimedia artist who regards her artwork as Cultural exchanges. She was born in Peru and lives in Miami, where she is a professor of visual arts at Miami International University of Art and Design. She has participated in over 150 international exhibitions and has won numerous awards and fellowships.

NORMANDY FOUNTAIN STAGE (rue Vendome between Normandy Drive + 71st Street)

Ben Neill and LEMUR (League of Electronic Musical Urban Robots)

6:00 p.m.

Ben Neill is a composer, performer, producer and inventor of the mutantrumpet, a hybrid electro-acoustic instrument. He has recorded seven CDs and has performed at every important new music festival in the world. LEMUR, the creation of musician and computer programmer Eric Singer, showcases cutting-edge technology – not as a gimmick, but to create a new kind of performance experience and a new means of musical expression. LEMUR's exotic, sculptural musical instruments integrate robotic technology and play themselves. Benneill.com; lemurbots.org

Dance Now! Ensemble “Dances at the Fountain”

8:00 p.m.

The Miami-based Dance Now! Ensemble is just as exciting and energetic as their name might suggest. The company focuses diversity and performs at the intersection of several kinds of international dance. With every show, they promise to present the audience with something creative and compelling. dancenowmiami.org

Felipe Lamoglia Sextet “New Dimensions in Afro-Cuban Beats”

10:00 p.m.

Grammy-winning saxophonist Felipe Lamoglia has led a music career in Cuba, Brazil, and the United States, performing with the likes of Arturo Sandoval and Celia Cruz. His style reflects the musical traditions of each country and, with his sextet, he'll present a concert that shows what American Jazz and Brazilian Samba can do to traditional Afro-Cuban beats. kccproductions.com

Silvano Monasterios and the Fourth World Ensemble

11:00 p.m.

This year, the Miami New Times voted Caracas-born pianist Silvano Monasterios the “Best Jazz Musician in Miami.” He has performed with some of the most prominent jazz musicians of both Venezuela and the United States and won several awards as a solo performer. kccproductions.com

SoBe Arts “Tunes & Toons”

5:30 a.m.

Do not miss this quasi-qwazy pre-dawn extravaganza of classic cartoons and live music, featuring the SoBe Arts Chamber Ensemble and the SoBe Arts Jazz Ensemble. Cartoons at dawn is a ritual American experience. SoBe Arts brings Sleepless Night to a colorful close by celebrating a visual art form that has long embraced both jazz and classical music. A blend of film projections and live performances with a late-late cabaret set – one that does not cater to children, veering from comic to provocative and hallucinatory. Welcome the Technicolor dawn skies with hues of the postmodern, orchestral standards twisted and re-imagined into the loony tunes, merry melodies and irreverent reveries of a golden age of animation. It's the perfect way to start the day – or end the night! sobearts.org

OCEAN DRIVE MASS ENSEMBLE STAGE (Ocean Drive between 6th + 7th Streets)

MASS Ensemble

Four shows: 7:30 p.m., 10:30 p.m., 2:30 a.m., 6:00 a.m.
